Caucus of the House Democrats This

FOUR CANDIDATES FOR SPEAKER

Mr. Roberts From Utah Participated Without Opposition.

AN ENERGETIC CANVASS

The caucus of the democratic members of the House of Representatives for the selection of candidates for House officers was held in the Hall of Representatives this afternoon. The principal interest centered in the contest for the speakership nomination, which carries with it the democratic leadership on the floor. The candidates were Richardson of Tennessee, De Armond of Missourl, Bankhead of Alabama and Sulzer of New York.

The Last Hours of the Canvass.

The democrats of the House entered into the final stages of their contest for minority leadership today with all the energy and interest among themselves that usually marks a serious struggle for the speaker-During the morning a number of conferences were held, and there was great activity at the several headquarters of can-deadlock developed in caucus.

New York delegation held a meeting and decided to stand by Sulzer indefinitely.

The canvass was conducted right up to the hour of meeting, and the general opinion before a vote was taken was that the four candidates would stand so close together on the first ballot that there might not be a difference of fifteen votes between the high-est and the lowest in the list, and opinions differed as to whether Richardson or De Armond would lead.

A Long Fight Expected.

The prospects at the hour of meeting seemed to be that there would be a protracted fight and possibly a deadlock, lasting at least through the day. It was said that if the fight got where it indicated a choice between Richardson and De Armond Sulzer's vote would grow quickly beyond any estimate made heretofore of his strength. Nobody claimed strength enough to elect on the first ballot at the time meeting, and the utmost doubt prevailed. The contest was conducted as of the ut-most importance, each candidate having headquarters in committee rooms, where the candidates were in waiting for reports

Victory for Bailey.

The caucus assembled about 1:15, with the presence of ES members.

There was considerable wrangling over the selection of a presiding officer. Mr. liay of Virginia and Mr. McRae of Arkansas were nominated. The friends of the latter made a strong fight against Mr. Hay, who has served only one term to the who has served only one term in the House. Mr. McRae is the oldest democrat House Mr McRae is the oldest democratin continuous service now in the House. After considerable speechmaking a vote was taken resulting in the selection of Mr. Hay, who received 77 votes against 62 for McRae. The former was understood to be the candidate of what was known as the Balley men. The result was regarded as indicating that Mr. Balley's friends, how-ever divided as among candidates, had bertson of Louislana and Cum-citigs of New York were chosen secreta-Ites.

It was said that Sibley of Pennsylvania did not intend to attend the democratic caucus, but whatever his intention had been before, when the caucus assembled he was present. Mr. Roberts of Utah also participated in the caucus, and his right to considered.

It is to be recommended that two shares of Long Distance Company stock be ex-changed for one share of American Bell Telephone Company stock. The balance of Shoon.000 or $20,000.000 of Long Distance Company stock will be held for the benefit of the Long Distance Company."

The Bell telephone people say that they are as yet unprepared to announce the rate of dividends to be paid on the Long Distance Company stock, as well as the exact date when the new plan will become opera-tive. Outside opinion is to the effect that the new stock will carry yearly dividends of S per cent a share.

As a result of the announcement Bell Telephone stock dropped below 250 in the Boston market this morning.

There were about sixty of them, and immediately on arrival the majority of them went to the state house to see what were the prospects of a count being had today Being informed definitely that there was no prospects of anything being done before Monday they culetly left, several of them announcing, however, that the entire crowd proposed to stay until the thing was settiled. An interview with one of them was the view of them all. They say they simply desire to see that Taylor is not "robbed of his rights." All of them, however, seemed to have determined in advance just what "Taylor's rights" are, and anything short of their estimate is likely to be resented. There has been no influx of democrats as yet, and the arrival of any number of them is not expected until Sunday night or Mon-

Many Congressmen Called to Pay Their Respects to the President.

Senator McComas Will Look Out for District Interests - The World's Healer.

There were many congressional callers at the White House today, but the most of them did not have any business to transact. They desired to pay their respects on the eve of the assembling of longress. The list included Senators Mc Comas. Baker, Beveridge and Foraker, Representatives Grosvenor, Bromwell, Van Voorhis, Needham, Cromer, Jenkins, Roberts, Grow and Spalding of North Dakota. Ex-Representative Springer, whose term as a judge of the federal court of the Indian territory will expire in a few days, was also a caller. Judge Springer's son, R. W. Springer, left New York a short time ago Springer, left New York a short time ago for the Philippines, going as chaplain of the 41st Regimen, now on its way to the east. Senator McComas had not seen the President in several months, and talked with him this morning about different matters. There has for some time been a story that both Senator McComas and Senator Scott of West Virginia desire positions on the District of Columbia committee of the Sen-ale. Senator McComas said today that he would do his best wherever placed. "Whatever may be my committee assignments. said the senstor, "I shall always look after the interests of the District of Columbia. Senator Scott would make an excellent man on the District committee. The White Race Doomed.

A curious-looking little colored woman was among the visitors to the White House today. She were a blue cap, on the front of which was a brass teg bearing the words "The World's Healer." She wanted to see the President, as she had a message from on high for him, she said. She could not communicate the message to any one else. As the President was not handy, she finally stated that the message she had for him was that the white race is doomed and that there will be no President of this country after January I. She declared that the white man is to be relegated to a sec-ond position in the world's history, and that he will become the slave of the colored race. Every white person will be a slave, she declared. Several of those who wanted to buy themselves off, as excep-

The world's healer declared that she had come to Washington a few days ago from New York. She found that city too hard and sinful a locality to attempt work in. She went there in 1895 to try to save the white race, for whom she had fought all her life, but they were unthankful, and she intended to let them go. Before she went to New York she lived in Waco, Texas, and her name was Matiida Johnson. That name was too common, however, for a world's healer, and the nearest approach to a common name was when she was called "Sister Healer." The wags at the White House solemnly introduced her to their friends by this name.

The woman was not arrested, as her story Fred Wheeler, 4th Cavalry, Albany; Capt. William W. McCammon, 14th Infantry, St. Paul; Capt. Robert P. P. Wainwright, 1st Cavalry, Chicago; Capt. Thomas F. Davis, 15th Infantry, St. Louis; Capt. William P. Van Ness, 1st Artillery, Newark; Capt. Richard H. Wilson, 8th Infantry, Denver; Capt. Augustus P. Blockson, 6th Cavalry, Pittsburg; Capt. Ammon A. Augur, 24th Infantry, Baltimore; Capt. Silas A. Wolf, 4th Infantry, Philadelphia; Capt. James S. Rogers, 20th Infantry, Harrisburg; Capt. Frank B. Jones, 22d Infantry, Macon; Capt. Edwin S. Curtis, 2d Artillery, Brookiyn; was not interesting enough to show her to be a dangerous fakir and was not keen be a dangerous rakir and was not keep enough to prove her to be a dangerous lumatic. She says that the white people will not believe her, but that they may consider themselves lost. She points to the twenty-second and succeeding verses of the twenty-fith chapter of Genesis to show that two races were born and that one would master the other. The story in that chapter is of the birth of Esau and Jacob. She claims to be inspired and to talk by the card.

Senor Quesada, the Cuban representative Senor Quesada, the Cuban representative at this capital, was at the White House today. He complimented the President on the wise report of Secretary Root. "The report will have good influence in Cuba," he said. The declaration in the report that the Cubans will be left to settle their own future was especially pleasing, he said.

NEW SET OF STAMPS PROBABLE. May Be Issued to Commemorate the Buffalo Exposition.

It is more than likely that the Postmaster General will order the issuance of a new set of stamps to commemorate the Buffalo exposition, which takes place in the city of Buffalo, N. Y., in 1901. The matter has already been brought to the attention of the third assistant postmaster general, Mr. Madden, and he is favorably impressed with the idea provided the series does not cost too much. A member of the exposition committee recently called upon Gen. Madden and asked about the matter. The visitor was requested to put his request in writing and it would be considered. There is almost certain to be considerable opposition to the issue from philatelists, who are opposed as a general proposition to the issuance of any new varieties of stamps. When the proposition to issue a distinctive set of stamps for the Omaha exposition came up there was a vigorous protest from stamp collectors, but it was of no avail. It is represented that the issu-ance of stamps descriptive of an exposition is the best possible advertisement, and its results are far-reaching. The entire world learns of the exposition, and the attention of the people generally is called to it

In conversation with a reporter of The Star today Gen. Madden said: "The whole subject is in embryo. My attention has been called to the advisability of Issuing a Buffalo series of stamps to commemorate the exposition, and I can see no objection at this time to it, provided, of course, the cost is not too great. The Omaha exposition had a series of nine stamps, and I suppose the Buffalo director would want as many. I know there will be objection from stamp collectors, but that must be expected. The stamps will be of great benefit to the exposition as an advertising medium, and up to the present time I am in favor of them.

BONA-FIDE CIRCULATION.

A reference to the statement below will show that the circulation sworn to is a bona-fide one.

It is easily possible for a newspaper with an elastic conscience to swell its legitimate circulation enormously, in order to deceive advertisers, by sending out thousands of papers to newsstands which are returnable, and which are, in fact, returned, but nevertheless are included in what purports to be an honest statement of circulation.

Intelligent advertisers, however, judge by results, and bogus circulations don't give them.

The family circulation of The Star is many thousands in excess of any other Washington paper.

It was the first time that elevens representing the two branches of the military arm of the government have met since 1893, when by mutual agreement of the Secretary of War and the Secretary of the Navy the annual contests were stopped because the interest in them had grown so intense that they interfered to some extent with the progress of the cadets in both academies It was also notable because of the promnent men who were here to see the battle. Among those present were Secretary of War Root, Secretary of Navy Long, Assistant Secretary of the Navy Allen and a long list of officers, active and retired, of the navy and army.

no admission fee was charged, and admit-tance was by invitation only. More than 22,000 invitations were issued, the two academies each sending out 6,000, and the University of Pennsylvania the remaining 10,-000 or more. The demand for tickets was unusually brisk and as high as $15 was offered for a single invitation.

Arrangement of the Spectators.

The West Point contingent was seated on he south stand, and with the West Point colors of black, blue and gray made a pretty picture. The followers of the naval cadets were on the north stand, their colors being blue and old gold. The decision of the officers not to apppear in uniform robbed the occasion of a spectacular feat-

The cadets and the middles have met on he foot ball field five times. Three time the sailors were victorious, one game was won by the cadets and one contest resulted in a tie. On the middies' team of '93 were two players who fell while in the service of their country. They were Worth Bagley, the dashing, young lieutenant who lost his life in action at Cardenas, and Merritt, who went down with the battle ship Maine. The preparations made by the two teams for today's garne were alshorate. Some of for today's game were elaborate. MR. DOWNS RETIRES.

ENORMOUS CROWD PRESENT Tenders Resignation as Court Clerk-Mr. Given His Successor.

Mr. N. Carroll Downs, for the past seven years an assistant clerk of the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia, this afternoon tendered his resignation. The vacancy thus created will be filled by the apof Pennsylvania gridiron warriors, the con- | pointment of Mr. Harvey Given, chief clerk in the office of the United States attorney for the District of Columbia. Mr. Downs resigns to accept the position of private secretary to Senator McComas.

He has been associated with the latter for many years, and was with him the eight years he was in Congress. When Senator McComas was appointed a justice of the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia, Mr. Downs was installed as an assistant clerk, rendering most efficient service in the criminal, circuit and equity branches of the court. He was always assigned to the court in which Justice McComas pre-sided. Since the latter resigned Mr. Downs has been with Justice Cole. Mr. Given has been connected with the office of the United States attorney for the past fifteen years, and is one of the best known and most popular young men of this city. He has been chief clerk of the office since the incumbency of Justice Cole as United States attorney. His duties were most important, and it is believed that his leparture constitutes a serious loss to the office. As United States Attorney Anderson was not informed until late this afternoon of the intended departure of the chief clerk. t is not yet known when and by whom the place will be filled.

place will be filled.

It also has not yet been decided when the resignation of Mr. Downs and the appointment of Mr. Given in the clerk's office will take effect, but, in all probability, it will be in a few days.

It has been known for some time that Mr. Downs intended to resign, and the understanding was that a Maryland man would succeed him. It is believed, however, that the influence of Justice Cole upset that proposition and settled the matter in favor of Mr. Given.

Dinner to Dr. Butler.

The complimentary dinner to be given to Rev. Dr. Butler at the Arlington on Wednesday evening next promises to be one of the most notable occasions of its character in the history of the city. Already more than one hundred and fifty of the most prominent persons in official and private life have secured seats, and many more have secured seats, and many more have signified their purpose to be present. Indeed there is a probability that the number could easily be doubled; but it is understood that the limit has been fixed at about two hundred, and the guest list will be closed on Monday evening, in order to John Keck, 1390 D street southeast; Eulierstood that the limit has been fixed at a Professional Demand.

pecial Dispatch to The Evening Star. NEW YORK, December 2.- The under-one of today's stock market was generally steady under a demand largely professional. London bought a few stocks and the continent sent over some buying orders in Northern and Union Pacific. The an nual statement for the latter is semi-officially announced to be quite up to expectations and the accumulation of the stock is by interests identified with the property. Baltimore and Ohlo issues reflect a tendency toward profit taking now that the recent mysterious advance has been explained. The best opinion of the transaction now is that a traffic arrangement and tion now is that a traine arrangement and not a consolidation was all that was either attempted or accomplished. East-bound rates charged by Baltimore and Ohio have not always been satisfactory to the larger eastern trunk lines, and the present com-pact is relied upon to accomplish the de-sired end.

This fact makes the mutual pledges recently made by the larger eastern lines especially encouraging, since prevailing A. Lynn, 482 Pennsylvania avenue; Edwin Mormann, 809 5th street; Chas. Mades, 300 Pennsylvania avenue; National Colored Perconditions are 'n harmony with the under taking.

The buying of Burlington attracted considerable attention during the morning, the forthcoming statement of earnings being the basis for the new demand. The entire granger group moved up in sympathy with Burlington, the demand attracting but a minimum supply of stock. Pacific Mail gave some evidence of accumulation in an ticipation of early action on the subsidy bill. The same incentive forced the price of this stock ip to 55 last winter, and the better prospects of this season are attract-ing a considerable speculative following. Sugar and Brooklyn Rapid Transit were improved under a covering demand from the room. Gigantic consolidations are rumored in connection with the former property, but the situation has not yet been developed to the stage at which the confidence of the public is to be employed. The Iron and Steel stocks have been well sustained during the week and the possi-bility of dividends for them without legal interference has inspired confidence in in-creased activity after the first of the year. The buying of Colorado Fuel is said to indicate a plan for a partial duplication of the recent achievement in Tennessee Coal and Iron. The bank statement was about up to go eral expectations, the gain of $4.414,500 is cash being slightly better than the estimates made vesterday. The loans have been increased $5,523,400, presumably on account of yesterday's interest requirements. The changes in the two flems are covered by an increase of $10,120,000 in the deposits. The reserve is increased by $1,884,500, bringing the total surplus holdrips, so, bringing the total surplus holdings up to $8,536,700. The statement is a good one in practically every respect, the increase in loans being a trille larger than was expected, in view of the general shifting of such accommodations earlier in the Money is abundant at the moment, but so such condition can prevail at this time in conjunction with an unusual speculation n stocks

The Addyston Pipe case and the President's message are relied upon to furnish the incentive to the early week's market. Following is the bank statement: Reserve, increase, $1.884,500; loans, increase, $2.284,500; loans, increase, $1.884,500; loans, Serve, increase, $1,303,900; legals, increase, $1,110,600; deposits, increase, $1,110,600; deposits, increase, $10,-120,000; circulation increase, $0,300.
